Dear Parish Family,

This past Friday, on the Memorial of Our Lady of Sorrows, Alicia Pousson celebrated her 5th Anniversary as a consecrated virgin in the Diocese of Lafayette. We pray for her as she continues this beautiful tradition in our Church of being in the world but not of the world! May God increase our vocations to the religious life and priesthood in our parish!

We also welcome Fr. Eloy Romero-Rojas, who will be giving a mission appeal for Cross Catholic Outreach this weekend. May we show him true Southern hospitality and what it truly means to be a little town with a big heart!

This weekend, we will hear Christ speak about forgiveness. By far, this is one of the most difficult teachings of Christ to follow because the forgiveness we receive from God will depend on our ability to forgive those who have offended us. We pray that each time we say the Our Father, "...forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." The real question is this: do we mean that?

Often, we hold onto anger because we feel it is all we have. But we know Christ offers us more. It is important to keep in mind that forgiving someone does not mean what they did was correct or right. It doesn't even mean things have to go back to what they were, but forgiveness offers healing. As a great spiritual writer once said, "Holding onto anger is like drinking poison and expecting the other person to die." In the end, it only harms us and leads us further away from God.

God Bless,
Fr. Killeen
